

Gluing

Portrait, Card & Border Assembly Procedure

This document covers the gluing workflow at Keith Merrick, from applying glue to small portraits through mounting them on cards with borders, and staging the finished sets for the next station. Complete each set for one person before moving to the next.

- A set = all smaller portraits belonging to one person. Complete a full set before beginning the next. Finished bags are staged on the table between the gluing station and the stretching station.

1. Applying Glue to Portraits

Run each small portrait through the gluing machine to apply an even coat of glue to the back. Work through a complete set before moving on.

- 1 Take a small portrait and place it on the gluing machine surface.
- 2 Apply glue to the back of the portrait by running it through the wheels of the gluing machine.
- 3 Set the portrait on the table face down.
- 4 Repeat steps 1–3 until you have completed a full set of smaller portraits (one set = all portraits belonging to one person).

- Always set portraits face down immediately after gluing. Do not stack glued portraits on top of each other — they will stick.

2. Mounting Portraits on Cards

With glued portraits ready, mount one portrait centered on the right side of the outside of each card. Work through all portraits in the set.

- 5 Take a card and glue the portrait centered on the right side of the outside of the card.
- 6 Repeat step 5 until all portraits in the set are glued onto their cards.

- Portrait placement: centered on the right side of the outside of the card. Take care to align each portrait squarely before pressing down.

3. Applying Borders

Once all portraits are mounted on cards, apply a glued border over each portrait to finish the card. The number of borders must match the number of cards.

- 7 Take the portrait borders and glue the back side of the same number of borders as there are cards by running them through the gluing machine.
- 8 Place each border on its card with the portrait centered in the middle on the right side, aligning the border squarely over the portrait.

 The number of glued borders must match the number of cards exactly. Count cards before gluing borders to avoid waste.

4. Bagging & Staging

Once all cards in the set are complete, bag and stage them at the designated table.

- 9 Once all cards are finished, bag all cards together and set them on the table between the gluing station and the stretching station.

Quick Reference Checklist

| # | Task                                                     | Notes                         |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 | Place small portrait on gluing machine surface           | One at a time                 |
| 2 | Run portrait through wheels to apply glue to back        | Gluings machine               |
| 3 | Set portrait face down on table                          | Do not stack                  |
| 4 | Repeat 1–3 for full set (one person)                     | Complete set before moving on |
| 5 | Glue portrait centered on right side of card (outside)   | Press down squarely           |
| 6 | Repeat step 5 for all portraits in the set               | One portrait per card         |
| 7 | Glue back of borders — same count as cards               | Run through gluing machine    |
| 8 | Place border over portrait, centered on right side       | Align squarely                |
| 9 | Bag all cards; stage between gluing & stretching station | All cards in one bag          |

For questions regarding this procedure, contact your floor supervisor or the Keith Merrick production team.